Hello Mayor Illece Buckley Weber and Agoura Hills City Council

On Wednesday last week I watched former President Obama's Town Hall on policing and racism. It was motivational and informational. He made a point that struck a chord with me. It takes all kinds of "action" to make change. Not only protest, but also people to follow through and follow up with government on the policy reforms needed to make change.

I live in Irvine California and am contacting all mayors in the state of California as well as all mayors across the country. President Obama's Foundation is calling on all mayors to take a pledge to commit to action to address police use of force policies.

The pledge is calling on mayors to commit to the following actions;

1. REVIEW your police use of force policies.
2. ENGAGE your communities by including a diverse range of input, experiences, and stories in your review.
3. REPORT the findings of your review to your community and seek feedback.
4. REFORM your community's police use of force policies.

Pledge at <https://www.obama.org/mayor-pledge/>

Together, we can work to redefine public safety so that it recognizes the humanity and dignity of every person.

Please take the pledge if you have not already. I will follow up again to see if you have taken the pledge.

If you have not, I would like to know specifically why not. Thank You. Aimee
