If I'm a No Party Preference voter, can I still vote in the Presidential Primary Election?

Yes, but there are extra steps you need to take depending on which party's Presidential Primary Election you would like to vote in. To vote for a Presidential primary candidate, here are your options:

Option 1: Request a crossover ballot.

Some parties allow No Party Preference voters to participate in their Presidential nominating process. Those include the American Independent, Democratic, and Libertarian parties. To do so, you must request a Vote by Mail crossover ballot.

Option 2: Register with a party.

Voters who wish to participate in the Green, Peace & Freedom, and Republican parties' primary must change their registration to the party of their choice. Update your voter registration here.

Option 3: No Presidential candidate ballot.

If you don't request a crossover ballot or update your voter registration, you will receive a nonpartisan ballot without Presidential candidates. All registered voters in L.A. County will be mailed a ballot this Primary Election in early February.
